

SPORT

(Continued From Page Two)

ONE HUNDRED TO COMPETE

Distance Runners to Start Marathon on Lincoln's Birthday

New York, Feb. 8.—A field of nearly 100 of the best distance runners in the country is expected to start in the Brooklyn Sea Gate Marathon, which will be held under the auspices of the Fifth company, Thirteenth regiment, Lincoln's birthday.

The race will undoubtedly be the classic event of the present year in athletics and is expected to mark the rejuvenation of the sport, which several years ago enjoyed a brief popularity.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

FOOTBALL RULES TO GET REST CURE

New York, Feb. 8.—Football rules are almost sure to get the "rest cure" this year, according to authoritative sources. Although the intercollegiate rules committee has arranged for its annual meeting here on February 14, it is expected that its 14 members will have little to do. The revised code adopted last winter was generally approved in reports at the recent meeting of the National collegiate athletic association and in all probability the changes in the rules, if any at all, will be along clarifying lines with nothing new or radical.

STATE AMATEURS MEET IN SALT LAKE

The second set of preliminaries in the state amateur tournament were held last night in the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. The sport was marred by the collapse of the bleachers and the injury of several spectators.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

STATE AMATEURS MEET IN SALT LAKE

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

The start will be made in the Thirtieth regiment, where the men will cover one lap before leaving. The last two miles will be run on the armory floor. An attractive list of events has been arranged for intervals during which the Marathoners will be on the road.

Chief among these is the mile and a half handicap, in which Abe Kiviat will start from scratch in an endeavor to shatter the long standing record of 6:46 2-5 which Tommy Conneff hung up at Travers Island on September 2, 1895. The great Conneff made the mark when Kiviat was but three years old. The diminutive winged flat flyer is just now at the top of his form.

Some of the bouts were excellent. The final event, however, was little short of a fiasco, the giant Mabbott, whose tremendous size had frightened many good heavyweights from entering the tournament, was knocked unconscious in the first round by an unknown light-heavy named Fred Fe-

lisch. The sleep producing punch was delivered before Mabbott had got on his feet. He had fallen partly on account of his opponent's blows and partly by his inability to retain balance on a great a frame. It was the old story of the bigger they are the harder they fall, but the officials refused to allow the referee's decision in Felach's favor, as he had struck before his adversary had risen from his line.

George Robinson, better known to local sporting circles as "Kid" Hanan, who has been aiding Jack Downey in handling the giant, took exception to Felach's foul punch, which was undoubtedly delivered under excitement and without intention of fouling. The "Kid" jumped to the mat and wanted to mix with the announced victor. Felach, nothing loth, was willing to battle, and the ring was crowded with excited trainers, but peace was made. Director O. B. Gingrich announced that the decision was disallowed and that the men would meet again either tonight or Monday night, as the tournament may require till the latter date for completion.

Major General John G. O'Ryan, commanding the national guard of New York, will pull the trigger that will send the men on their grueling grind. It is estimated that 150,000 persons will view the race.

Hallman; by Detroit to Denver, Cliff Healy; by Cleveland to Portland, Eugene Krapp and W. H. James; by Helena to Washington, W. D. Lussat and George V. H. Keenan; by New York (unconditional), Harry Wolverton.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—The bout between Pal Moore of Philadelphia and Carl White of Chicago, which was to have been staged at Kenosha next Monday night, was called off tonight. Threats of arrest for principals and promoters brought about the cancellation.

London, Feb. 8.—Tom O'Rourke, the well known American fighting promoter and manager and Al Palmer his "White Hope" arrived in London today. O'Rourke declared that he intends to make an effort to complete arrangements for a match between Palmer and Jack Johnson, to take place at the Cirque de Paris, in Paris, before returning to America, but he admitted that his real purpose for coming across the Atlantic was to personally prosecute his suit for libel against the weekly sporting paper, called Boxing.

The case comes to trial next Tuesday, February 11. The alleged libel charges the veteran fight manager with being implicated in a number of questionable transactions having to do with the deciding as to who would be the winner of a big boxing contest, in which one of his fighters was to be a principal, before the battle was fought, often sacrificing his own man to the betterment of his O'Rourke's pocket.

O'Rourke indignantly denies all these charges, declaring that if they were true he would not fit to associate, with honorable sporting men. Boxing enthusiasts on both sides of the Atlantic are watching the case with interest. O'Rourke has been known as a handler of champions for years, and for that reason alone, is one of the big figures in the game. At one time or another during his long career O'Rourke has managed such men as George Dixon, Joe Wolcott, Kid Lavigne, and Tom Sharkey.

Defendants Cite Cases. The defendants assert that the words complained of are true in substance and fact. They cite the following cases of O'Rourke's alleged dishonest dealings.

"When Joe Wolcott fought Kid Lavigne at the National Sporting Club of San Francisco in October 1897, the plaintiff made a secret agreement with the referee whereby Wolcott was to lose and the plaintiff placed his bets against Wolcott. O'Rourke, acting as manager for Tom Sharkey in November 1898, made an arrangement, unknown to Sharkey, where by the latter was to win his bout with Jim Corbett, and O'Rourke bet heavily on Sharkey. He made a similar arrangement in the Sharkey-Kid McCoy fight at the Lenox club, New York, 1899.

O'Rourke contends that unless the defendants can prove these charges he is entitled to heavy damages for defamation of character.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Frank Gotch, champion heavy-weight wrestler of the world, is about to emerge from retirement. He came to Chicago today to referee a wrestling bout and incidentally, while here he admitted that he was about ready again to answer the lure of the mat.

"If there is a public demand that I wrestle again, I'll come back," he said. "I might even wrestle someone I already have beaten. If the sporting public think I should in order to make my superiority conclusive. But I'm not anxious about going into training."

Gotch at present is in business in Humboldt, Ia., and if he should take up training for a match, he says, he would have to abandon his business. Mrs. Gotch is opposed to his re-entering the game.

Just whom Gotch would wrestle if he should decide to come back has not been stated. It is generally believed, however, that Zbyszko would get the match. He never has been satisfied with the champion's victory over him here about three years ago when Gotch secured the first fall in six seconds.

HOUSE DOORKEEPER DEAD. Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Frank B. Lyon, 50 years of age, doorkeeper of the house of representatives from 1902 to 1909, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home in North Cuba, Allegany county, today.

A LAST RESORT. Lena.—And she married for love? Mena.—Yes. It was the best she could do.

LEGAL SUMMONS. In the District Court of Weber County, State of Utah. Bertha Hubbard, Plaintiff, vs. George S. Hubbard, Defendant. The State of Utah to the Said Defendant: You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons upon you. If served within the county in which this action is brought; otherwise, within thirty days after service, and defend the above entitled action; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint, which has been filed with the clerk of said court.

This action is brought to recover a judgment dissolving the Bonds of Matrimony now and heretofore existing between you and the plaintiff. T. R. O'CONNOLLY, Plaintiff's Attorney.

P. O. address, No. 2411 Washington avenue, Ogden, Utah. First publication January 15, 1913. Last publication February 8, 1913.

After World's Ski Jumping Record

(How a champion ski jumper looks when in the air.)

Ironwood, Mich., Feb. 8.—Crack ski jumpers from all parts of the north-west are flocking here to get themselves in shape for the Ninth Annual Championship Ski Tournament which is to be held under the auspices of the Ironwood Ski club, beginning next Saturday, February 15, and continuing for three days.

In order to aid the contestants in their proposed onslaught on the world's record jump of 156 feet made by Gunnar Anderson in Norway last winter, the committee has had an extension of forty feet built at the top of the scaffold run.

A handsome collection of prizes have been donated for the winners of first, second and third places in the various events. Large cash prizes will be hung up for the winners of the professional events and a special cash prize will be set aside for the man who establishes a new world's record.

Fund Will Grow. The $50,000 fund will be augmented greatly by private contributions and by appropriations by the various counties. The revenue of Grand county is small, but the commissioners have promised to do their best to assist the state in the construction of the road through that county. The enterprising Emery county folk have 100 teams in readiness to work on the road just as soon as the bill becomes a law. They will donate the use of the teams and the labor of 100 city sets for the next two months in the construction of the road. The county commissioners of Carbon county will vote to duplicate any funds expended by the state in the county and one citizen has already announced a personal contribution of $1000 to the road building fund.

Good roads enthusiasts do not hope to build an ideal road for the $50,000 but they do hope to be able to iron out several bad places on the road and place it in such condition it will be more comfortably and pleasantly traversed and to establish the route in the future. By private contributions and county appropriations they hope to increase the fund for the Utah link of the Midland trail to $100,000.

When the bill came up for passage yesterday President Gardner took the floor and urged that Spanish Fork be included among the Utah cities through which the route would pass. By going through Spanish Fork, President Gardner said, the road would be about a mile longer than originally intended, but the road would be better and easier to maintain. In addition it would bring the transcontinental tourists in close proximity to the Strawberry valley reclamation project. The amendment was inserted.

Senator Charles Cottrell, Jr., of Salt Lake wanted the route officially designated as the Midland trail in the bill. Several senators objected to the name becoming a part of the bill and the amendment was lost. Senator L. B. Wright of Summit wanted the bill to specify that each county expend as much as the state in the construction of the road. It was shown that such a provision would be a hardship on Grand and Emery counties, which had much of the road and but very little revenue. This amendment was lost.

Senator C. Iverson of Carbon made a long talk in favor of the bill. He said that in July representatives of the American Automobile association would be here to inspect the Utah road and if they found it in good condition and capable of being made into an excellent automobile highway they would undoubtedly designate it as a portion of the transcontinental route. He said that the association had levied a tax on manufacturers of automobiles for improving the transcontinental highway and this tax would net $10,000,000 for this purpose, much of which would doubtless be spent in Utah.

After considerable discussion the bill was passed, with only Senator J. W. Fink of Cache voting in the negative.

LABOR NEWS OF ALL COUNTRIES. In New York, the paper rulers and blank book binders, members of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders, have secured an agreement increasing their minimum scale to $21 a week. This is an increase of $3 per week and affects over 600 men.

Co-operative trade societies and trade unions of Great Britain are preparing to organize a huge industrial combine, which will affect about 4,000,000 workmen. In the case of the co-operators alone this is expected to involve $250,000,000.

Stone quarriers, despite their outdoor life, die about twice as fast of consumption as most other people. Texas State Federation of Labor has drafted a tentative bill for workmen's compensation to be introduced at this session of the state legislature.

England's national insurance act went into effect on January 15 last. This act is a measure for insuring working people against illness or disability by means of a fund to which the workers themselves, their employers and the government contribute in certain specified proportions. It will affect more than 13,000,000 persons of all ages, sexes and occupations. Under its provisions all workers are entitled to get free medical attendance when they are ill and if permanently incapacitated from earning a living by themselves, a benefit until their seventieth year, when they will be entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.

entitled to enjoy the benefits of the Lloyd-George old-age pension law of 1909. Russia had almost a quarter of a million organized workers in 1907. In the Oldham district, London, England, fatal accidents happened to workers in the following proportions: Men, 3 in 2500; women, 7 in 50,000; male young persons, under 18, 3 in 4500; female young persons, 1 in 62,000; children, 1 in 17,500.